

ZOMBIE-THEMED ALL-SCHOOL SHOW IN NOVEMBER!

This year, Yorktown Theatre will present A Zombie Extravaganza, including the hilarious All I Really Need to Know I Learned From Being a Zombie, a short play, written as a series of vignettes, by Jason Pizzarello. In this comedic drama, as zombies engage the audience with musings on life, death, and everything in between, we find out that life's most valuable lessons lie within the undead. The Yorktown show will also incorporate clips from zombie movies, music by the Yorktown Choir, as well as performances by 28th Street Improv, the Yorktown Cheer team and Color Guard. Join A Zombie Extravaganza!

We are looking for zombie and non-zombie roles, as well as backstage technicians (set design, props, sound, lighting, etc.) Even if you have never been in a play we encourage you to try out!

AUDITION INFORMATION

- When: Mon - Wed, September 16, 17 & 18, 3:15-6pm (short monologue or story)
Call backs: Thurs & Fri, September 19 & 20, 3:15-6pm
- Where: YHS Black Box, room 172
- What: Sign up on the Theatre Arts bulletin board across from the Black Box, near the library
- Contact: For questions, see Ms. Cadby in the Theatre Arts Office (room 189) or email her at carol.cadby@apsva.us